

[read more 2] In today's world people are often separated from their extended families and the wisdom of older generations. The young don't always have regular contact with older adults. Older adults can feel isolated and not have contact with many young people. But as parish we are a family in Christ. Generations of Faith offers an opportunity to bridge these gaps and helps us to know our sisters and brothers in Christ that we worship with each weekend. As we come to know each other better we are more readily able to enter into our Sunday liturgies with full and active participation, and thereby to build up the Church.
